CD Singer

BEGINNING

When you sing you become a wind instrument. By learning some rules and with practice you can learn to play your voice. I have written this just for you as a singing helper.

John and Joan loved to sing. They sang all of the time with the mp3s and CDs. They liked music so much, their parents decided to give them the gift of music lessons for a Christmas present. Many music stores were called to find the right teacher.

Joan liked country music and John liked classical music. They could both study with the same teacher. By learning how to sing correctly, you can sing different kinds of music.

Miss Elizabeth seemed to be the right teacher. She knew it was important to learn the rules of singing when you're young. As you get older, your voice will grow up with you.

John and Joan were about to start a learning adventure into the "Heart" of singing.
